WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The Senate, 81 to 2, yesterday passed the bill adding 10,000,000 persons to the Social Security system and doubling benefits for retired workers. The tax base was raised from $3,000 to $3,600 and maximum primary benefits from $45 to $50. The measure was sent to conference to be reconciled with the one passed by the House.

F. C. to the Commerce Department.

Bowing to State Department representations, a Senate committee agreed to remove from its report on coffee prices criticisms offensive to Latin-American countries.

Secretary Acheson, addressing the Governors' Conference, explained State Department problems and policies and answered questions on employee loyalty. He was said to have converted both Republican and Democratic critics to the belief that Senator McCarthy's charges of Communist infiltration into the department were relatively insignificant in the light of the general world Tag day is to be observed tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, in the interests of the Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, Bugle and Drum Corps. The day is being sponsored so as to obtain sufficient money to pay for new uniforms for the corps.

Month

COST TO BE $2,300,000

DOYLESTOWN, June 21 — Contracts for the new $2,300,000 Central Bucks junior-senior high school are expected to be awarded this week by the State Public School Building Authority. It was announced at a special meeting of the board at the end of the week. The announcement was made by President Frank W. Tremblay.

If contracts are made as soon as expected, construction will start early in July, according to Dr. J. Edward Smith, superintendent. H. John Rosenberg, president, and George B. McLaughlin, Doylestown; Wesley Landis, New Britain township; William Christman, Doylestown township, and Dr. Smith were present Thursday when the bids were opened in Harrisburg.

The low bid for the general construction of the new school was submitted by Wark & Company, Philadelphia, $1,163,000.

Last evening the Central Bucks Joint School Board authorized the State Public School Building Authority to proceed and award the contracts to the low bidder.

The necessary contracts, paper and other documents, which had to be signed last evening, will be sent by special delivery mail to Harrisburg today.

"Ten days after the contract is signed the general construction and work must get underway," explained Doylestown Borough School Board President Rosenberg. "If the State Authority gets the contracts signed next week building operations will begin within ten days after that date and there will be no more delay unless something technical should crop up," he said.

BUCKS CO. BOROUGH ASS'N CONDUCTS ITS FINAL SESSION FOR SEASON; JOHN R. MAY IS NAMED PRESIDENT, SUCCEEDING G. T. HAYMEN

NEWTOWN, June 21—A dinner-meeting, followed by an entertainment program furnished by professional entertainers, concluded the meetings of the Bucks County Boroughs Association for the season here, last evening. The session was held in the Temperance House and was attended by 105 members and guests.

The only business to be transacted was the election of officers. This was done by the unanimous adoption of the report of the nominating committee.

John R. May, Langhorne, was chosen president; Francis J. Byers, Bristol, vice president; Charles Knapp, Quakertown, secretary; and D. Russell Bond, Newtown, treasurer.

There were a number of special guests for the occasion. These were introduced by President G. Thawley Haymen, Doylestown, the retiring president, who served for two years, as follows: Robert M. Cameron, president of Montgomery County Boroughs Association; Oscar Yost, president of Middlesex Association of Boroughs; Claud Fogelman, secretary of Middlesex Association of Boroughs; K. C. Acton, chairman of arrangements committee for the state convention which opens in Philadelphia next week; Phillip Pendleton, vice president of the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs; Fred Oler, Koppers Coke Co.; Bert Benner, Newtown, chairman of committee on arrangements for the meeting. The diners were seated at small tables decorated with flowers and ferns. The blessing was invoked by George C. Butler, Doylestown. There was the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner," after which the dinner was enjoyed.

In addressing the gathering, President Haymen called attention to the fact that it was the second annual meeting of the association. He then presented Harry W. Shields, Burgess of Newtown, who extended a welcome to the gathering. The guests were then introduced by Haymen and each one spoke briefly, outlining the advantages of such an association and the importance of borough councilmen being affiliated with such a group. The influence such associations have upon legislation was outlined.

The minutes were read by Francis J. Byers, Bristol, the retiring secretary. The report of treasurer, D. Russell Bond, Newtown, showed a cash balance on hand of $494.90.

Expressions of the appreciation of the retiring officers for the co-operation of their co-workers were given. President Haymen was thanked for the tremendous amount of time and effort he has put forth during the past two years.

The next meeting of the association will be held in Yardley on September 26th.

Union Fire House In Path of Intersection Approach
To New Freeway

ASK COST OF LOT 2 FROM BRISTOL AREA

MORRISVILLE, June 21—Union Fire Co. members are planning to move out of their building at S. Pennsylvania avenue soon to make way for a proposed clover-leaf approach to the new freeway.

The fire company asked borough council last week for the cost of the borough-owned lot at the southeast corner of Washington street and Philadelphia avenue as a possible site for a new fire house.

The lot has a 100-foot frontage on Philadelphia avenue and 150 feet of Washington street. Councilman Edward R. Roberts, Jr., says that the borough should give first consideration to the fire company and that the lot should be sold to the firemen at its cost to the borough.

Trees in the freeway approach area will be moved by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission. Those trees not movable will be replaced, according to a Commission spokesman at the meeting last week.

A pipe line to remedy a drainage problem is being planned.

PLAN ATTACK ON RECKLESS DRIVERS

Bristol Police Are Determined To Cut Down the Accidents Here

A WARNING IS GIVEN

Bristol Police Officer
To Talk On The Air

Tomorrow afternoon a Bristol police officer, John Dugan, will talk on "Safety" over radio station WBUD, from 12:40 to 12:45. Dugan's talk will be part of the Bristol police department's campaign for safety on the streets of the borough.

A planned attack to clear borough streets of potential killers has been launched by Bristol police.

Reckless driving and speeding, which took one life last month in Bristol, will be the target as members of the police force begin to crack down on wild driving motorists.

Most of the average of 10 arrests made here each month are for speeding and reckless driving. Arrests, fines and prison terms come too late in many cases, according to Chief Linford Jones.

"These measures impress violators only after accidents occur," Chief Jones said. "Our job now is to impress those who persistently break the law, but who haven't been caught as yet."

One of the most potent weapons available to police is the suspension of driving privileges for motorists who exceed the speed limit.

Arrests, with their unfavorable publicity, and the resultant fines or prison sentences are other tools which the police will use to clear the streets of dangerous drivers.

Not all the methods used by the police are as widely known as those above. Other plans carried on by the traffic planning group are helping to cut down the accident toll in less spectacular but nonetheless effective ways.

Parking problems, long an important factor in the borough, will be discussed.

Over 100 Members

LABOR IS DONATED

Back in 1937, some 13 young men in the fifth ward banded together and organized themselves into a small sporting club. They began meeting in members' homes, and as the membership grew they rented rooms and empty stores to use as meeting places.

Today, more than 100 members strong, the Fifth Ward Sporting Club is building itself a permanent home on Wood street near Fillmore.

Members have been voluntarily giving up their Sundays to contribute their time and efforts in building the new club house. Since the weather has warmed up some of the men have been finding time to work on the structure on weekday evenings and on Saturdays.

The work has been going on since the week before Easter, and within a few days the members expect the roof to be completed on the 30-foot-high club house. All the skilled construction labor is also being donated.

Would Block Incorporating Doylestown-Buckingham In Suburban Milk Marketing Area

Harrisburg—The Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers Association today prepared to block an attempt to incorporate Doylestown and Buckingham in the Philadelphia suburban milk marketing area.

The change, if granted, would result in a two cents a quart increase in the retail price of Vitamin D milk to consumers in the two Bucks County communities, according to G. A. Boger, president and general manager.

State Milk Control Commission Chairman H. N. Cobb entered a letter from Boger into the record of a commission conference yesterday. Doylestown and Buckingham now are in the Lehigh marketing area. The commission announced that it is tentatively switching Warrington, Warwick, Wrightstown and Upper Makefield from the Lehigh to the Philadelphia suburban area.

Cobb added, however, that final decision on the changes will not be made until "information down to the last detail" has been gathered.

State Sen. A. Evans Kephart, attorney for the Interstate Milk Producers Association which requested the change, told the MCC that inclusion of the four smaller localities without Doylestown and Buckingham amounts to "practically no change at all."

Vitamin D milk in the Lehigh area retails for 19 cents a quart, the same price as standard milk.

Standard milk prices will rise one cent to 20 cents a quart July 1 in the Philadelphia suburban area. Vitamin D milk also will increase a cent to 21 cents a quart.

Boger said that more than 100 farmers in the Doylestown area are members of the Lehigh Valley unit which has a total membership of 2,200.

RED SPIES SUCCEEDED

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, following leads provided by the conscience-stricken Dr. Fuchs after a British court sent him to prison for giving atomic secrets to the Russians, have now arrested three Americans on espionage charges. They are: Harry Gold, Philadelphia scientist; Alfred Dean Slack, paint plant technician of Syracuse, N. Y., and David Greenglass, New York City, former U. S. Army non-commissioned officer at Albuquerque, N. M.

Whether there will be other arrests the FBI is not saying, but Director Hoover has revealed that the two persons designated as Richard Roe and John Doe, alias Sam and John respectively, were on the staffs of Soviet agencies in this country.

The first was Semen W. Semenov, Amtorg employee, who left the United States in September, 1944; the second, Anatoli Antonovich Yakovlev, vice consul in the Russian consulate at New York City until his departure on December 27, 1946.

Dr. Fuchs and these Americans, according to the FBI, dealt with the Russians directly or indirectly. It is not pre-judging the case to assume that the bureau is convinced that it has uncovered a spy ring not very different — and more successful though it may have been smaller — than the one exposed by the Canadian government shortly after the war ended.

This ring was extremely successful. It could hardly have served the Russians better. Dr. Fuchs, the German-born but naturalized British scientist who was its key figure, had access to information of the highest importance. He was willing to turn it over to the Russians. He unquestionably succeeded — and because the information reached Moscow it can be said that the Russians must be credited with one of the greatest exploits in the history of international espionage.

That is a fact Americans must face for the sake of their future safety.

FLEEING FROM FREEDOM

John Peet, 34, was the chief Berlin correspondent of Reuters. The British news agency says his dispatches have always been "accurate, impartial and beyond reproach." Now, without warning, he has resigned his post and held a communist-staged news conference at which he denounced "Anglo-American warmongering" and "lying reporting." He says he is not a communist, but he is looking for a newspaper job in the East German "people's democracy."

What is the power communism has over men's minds? Perhaps the United States ought to organize a scientific project to seek the answer to this psychological question. It is easy to understand why many men flee tyranny for freedom. But it would be interesting to learn why a few flee freedom for tyranny.

tant cause in traffic accidents, have been lessened by the enlargement of the borough parking lot behind Mill street. Parking meters have also helped to minimize the confusion and danger in this heavily traveled area.

"However," Chief Jones said, "the parking problem will not be completely solved until more cars are parked off the streets throughout the borough."

One-way streets, according to Chief Jones, also help cut down on accidents because they give the motorist and pedestrian only one flow of traffic to watch.

Most of the streets in the Mill street business area are one way not only to increase safety but to speed the flow of traffic. Many of the streets in the sixth ward recently converted into one-way lanes to facilitate traffic and also to help relieve the parking situation.

In some areas parking on both sides of one-way streets has increased possible accident hazards for children who dart out into the street from behind parked cars.

"The motorist who has his car under control and is within the speed limit can meet such an emergency without harm," said Chief Jones.

Every intersection in Bristol, according to Chief Jones, is a potential danger area.

To help minimize traffic hazards at these danger zones the borough has eight traffic lights placed at strategic corners where car flow is heavy. Stop signs, nearly 100 of them, have also been placed at street corners to diminish accident possibilities.

In residential areas 24 "watch children" signs have been placed, and 35 school warning signs caution motorists approaching school zones. More than 30 signs also warn the motorist of the speed limit, reminders that borough streets are not race tracks.

Violations may mean fine or imprisonment — if not death.

of George School students whom he befriended and counseled over the years, he has been instrumental in developing a broad program of dramatics at the school. Recently his high-caliber dramatics classes have exchanged play productions with other schools, travelling away one year and inviting another school's talent to stage a production at George School in return.

His varied activities at George School included seven years of coaching varsity football, including the 25th campaign when his eleven pulled several spectacular upsets to earn the boat gridiron record in years.

Mr. Frescoln directed the work of the George School building fund program several years ago, and his efforts, along with those of others, resulted in a national award for fund raising publicity and an overall total of $50,000 from alumni, parents and friends for the development of George School.

His teaching experience in the English department long has made him a popular out-of-school speaker before civic clubs and women's groups. Other outside activities included being secretary-treasurer of the Consolidated Vigilance Society of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, as well as a member of the Newtown Fire Association and Newtown Reliance Company, etc.

He and his wife, Marianna, are building a new home a few miles outside of Yardley, and Mr. Frescoln expects to remain hereabouts.

"Although he may be small in stature," an editorial in a recent issue of the George School News said of him, summarizing student and faculty opinion, "the jobs he has undertaken and completed — and has not been — the piece went on to laud Rees Frescoln for his dramatics, athletics and humorous English work at the school."

was the dispatcher both at the home and at the park.

The early rain had stopped, fortunately, by the time the boys reached their destination but they were destined to get a dousing later in the afternoon nevertheless. They took it in stride however, and came up smiling. A picnic lunch including candy and ice cream was served to this vast throng twice in the course of the day by the Knights' Aides.

The amusements were free the greater part of the morning and afternoon and needless to say were well patronized. They included motorboats and electric scooters, chute the chutes and loop the loops. The air resounded with the shouts of the boys and the shrieks of the girls.

By 5:30 the homeward trek started moving. The caravan reached St. Francis shortly before seven where the chauffeurs had a little lunch of their own. Before very late that night a host of very tired youngsters were doubtless dreaming of ferris wheels and carousels and other amusements of the amusement park.

Club Members Are Building Club House

When completed the club house will be 59 by 85 feet in size. The basement will be used as a game and recreation room for children, and will include a ping-pong set, carpentry tools, a photographic darkroom, and other equipment.

The first floor, complete with a stage at one end, will be available for rent to different groups as a hall. The seating capacity will be more than 300.

The structure will be valued at more than $40,000, according to Louis Galzerano, chairman of the building committee. Because of the contributions of the members and outside contracting groups, the cost to the club will be about $16,000, Galzerano says.

Some of this amount has been raised by two musical shows sponsored by the club during the last few years. A canvassing drive now in progress is expected to add to the fund, but Galzerano feels that some money will have to be borrowed before the building is completed.

Other members of the building committee include Nino Mazzanti, Nicholas Mancini, Renzo Girotti and Fred Constantini. Peter Mancini is president of the club; Pat Teabari is vice-president; James Orzani is treasurer, and Anthony Florio is secretary. The plans for the clubhouse were drawn up by Nicholas Pasquale.

PERRY HOLDS VOLTZ TO ONE LONE HIT; FLANNERY'S WINS

"Jack" Perry, former Pennsbury High hurler, held Voltz-Texaco to one hit last evening as Flannery's Eagles, of Pennell, scored an 8-1 triumph over the gamson on Memorial Park baseball field in a Tri-County League fray.

"Jack" Walker made a double off Perry in the initial frame. The hit scored "Hank" Killian who had reached first when Frank Purcell missed the third strike. Perry fanned eight batters and walked two. From the first inning until Jack Haines walked in the seventh, Perry retired 19 batters in a row.

"Dick" Campion started on the mound for the Voltz-men. He was relieved by "Sal" Pappatera in the first when Gring, C. Purcell, and F. Purcell singled in successive order and after Lukens went out, Fizzano rapped out a triple to left. Flannery's scored four runs during this onslaught.

Clint Purcell had three hits for the winners and drove in three runs.

LUCISANO CONTINUES TO CLIMB IN LEAGUE

Lucisano Brothers, of Tullytown, continued to climb in the Bristol Softball League by handing the Fifth Ward Sporting Club its fifth straight defeat last evening on Memorial field. Final score was 11-5.

Feature of the tilt was a 4-run homer by "Phil" DiNatale, Tullytown shortfielder, in the third inning. McSherry, Blancosino, and Gene Lynch were on the bags when DiNatale delivered his bambino clout. Tullytown clinched the tilt in this frame by crossing the plate seven times.

Fifth Ward rallied in the last cant to score four times but "Norm" White tightened up before the damage became too great.

In addition to his home run, DiNatale had a double. Dick Ritter maintained his lead in batting by getting two out of three while Roy Lynch walked and hit two singles in stepping to the plate three times.
